All the motions that we are going through
On this swinging bulb of violent light
No other soul can sleep so easily at night
The waking up is better than the coming to

New skin
New earth

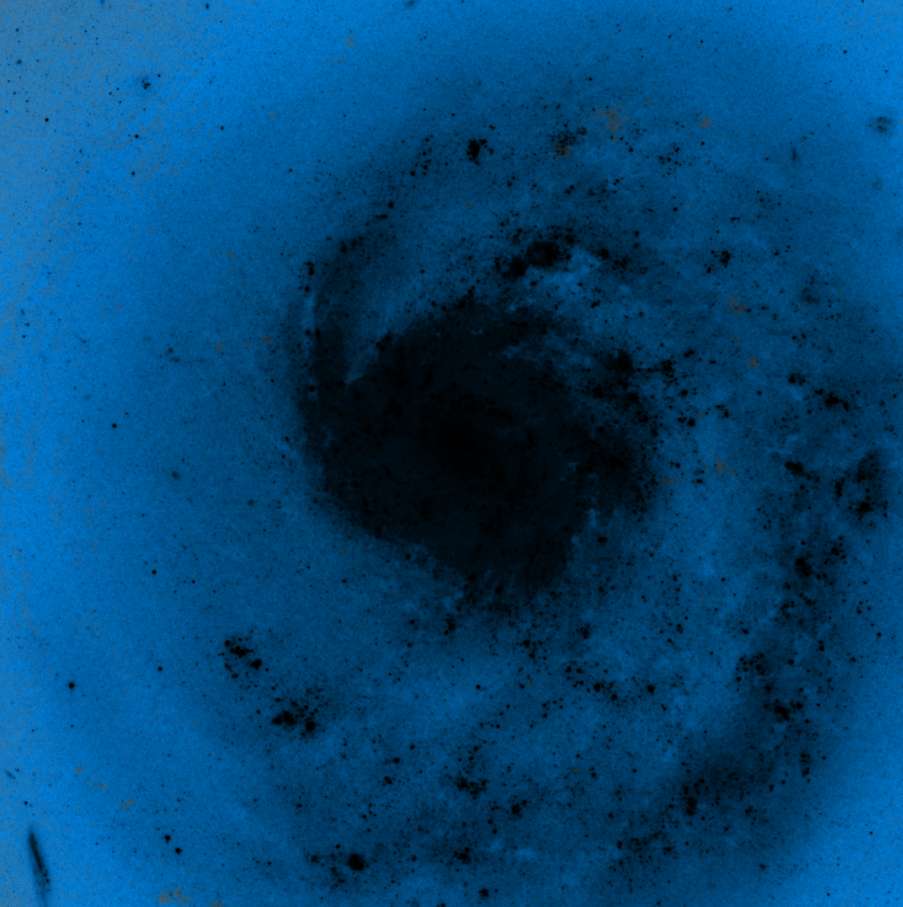

The soft spot of the harder truth
The worlds fall apart in a moment Critical mass is ever closer
The light pooling in on us and over

New skin
New sounds Same ground you're buried in Same gravity that pulled you down

The manual override
Will only work when you die inside
But there is wonder beyond the spheres
There is joy here
There lies potential
There is memory aplenty for you when I am gone Gone and said goodbye

To new skin
New sounds
Same ground you're buried in

Same ground you're buried in

i never believed in love at first sight i only believed in you that first night i never believed in "nobody else" i only believe you're all that i've felt i never believed truth was a picture i only believe photographs fit you i never believed i could fall deeper i only believe you're endless ether your love is a curve that rewrites my history like i've always known you and you've never missed me like we are parentheses holding the answer and everything outside us just doesn't matter

i never believed in someone who'd stay i only believe you don't slip away i never believed i'd let the doubts go i only believe that you're all i know
